Indiana Appeals Court Judge Melissa May will bring Address

UNIVERSITY WILL HONOR THREE

Melissa S. May

In today's Commencement Exercises, the University of Southern Indiana will confer honorary doctoral degrees on three citizens for their accomplishments in their careers and their contributions to education and society.

The Commencement Address will be given by Judge Melissa

S. May, an attorney and a member of the Indiana Court of Appeals.

Judge May practiced law in Evansville from 1984 until she was appointed to the Indiana Court of Appeals by Governor Frank O'Bannon in April 1998. She is one of three judges who represent the Fourth District, which includes Vanderburgh County. The Indiana Court of Appeals has jurisdiction over all appeals not taken to the Indiana Supreme Court.

Active in the legal profession, she is a member of the American Bar Association, which she presently serves as a member of the Standing Committee on Attorney Specialization. She has held several leadership positions with the Indiana Bar Association, including membership on the Board of Managers, Counsel to the President, Co-chair of the Futures Taskforce, and Chair of the Litigation Section. Other memberships include the Evansville Bar Association, Indianapolis Bar Association, National Association of Women Judges, Indiana Judges Association, and American Judicature Society.

Judge May is a Fellow of the American Bar Foundation and the Indiana Bar Foundation, and a Master Fellow of the Indianapolis Bar Foundation. She served on the Board of Directors of the Indiana Bar Foundation from 1994-1998. She also has given leadership to designing programs for continuing legal education as a member of the Board of Directors of the Indiana Continuing Legal Education Forum and as co-chair of the Indiana Trial Advocacy College. Judge May is a member of the Continuing Legal Education Commission and chairs its Specialization Committee.

Judge May received the Bachelor of Science degree from Indiana University-South Bend in 1980 and the Juris Doctor degree from Indiana University School of Law in Indianapolis in 1984. She is an adjunct faculty member at the Indiana University School of Law Indianapolis, teaching Trial Advocacy. She lives in Morgan County with her husband Mike.

Judge May has been instrumental in bringing oral arguments of the Indiana Court of Appeals to the Evansville area, facilitating an understanding of the workings of the court among the public. These arguments have been held at the University of Southern Indiana, where students and faculty, as well as the public, have had an opportunity to observe actual arguments in cases before the Court.

In today's ceremony, Judge May will receive an honorary Doctor of Civil Law degree in recognition of her prominence in the legal profession and the judiciary.

The Doctor of Laws degree will be awarded posthumously to Ruth Gray Yates, a retired teacher and generous benefactor to University of Southern Indiana students, who died January 26. Mrs. Yates was an Evansville native who graduated from Evansville College and began teaching in Vanderburgh County schools in 1928. When she retired in 1963, she had taught for 35 years. She and her husband Davis Yates retired the same year, he as a teacher and principal for 45 years. A year later they moved to Perry County, Indiana.

Mrs. Yates was a founding member and first president of Gamma Beta, one of two Evansville chapters of the national philanthropic sorority, Sigma Alpha. She served as national president of Sigma Alpha, and also served at the national level in several capacities including chairperson of the 1937 convention and editor of Robur, the national newsletter.

From age 83 to 93, Mrs. Yates volunteered weekly, reading aloud to Tell City Junior High School sixth graders. She also was a volunteer for the Perry County American Heart Association and for 25 years she was secretary and memorials chair. She was a sought-after speaker on the 84 different kinds of birds she and her husband had documented at their Tobinsport home, Riverview Manor. A member and president of the Tell City Historical Society, she also served on the Perry County Library Board, and was a member of Eastern Star and Daughters of the Nile. From 1928 until her death, she was a member of the Evansville Vanderburgh School Corporation Teachers and Retired Teachers Association, the Indiana State Teachers and Retired Teachers Association, and the National Education Association. Mrs. Yates also was a member of the Indiana chapter of Delta Gamma, the International Honorary Society for Women Educators.

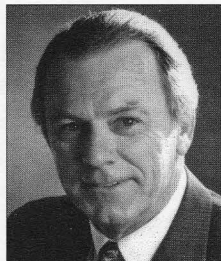

FOR ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Because of Mrs. Yates' volunteer commitments to many organizations, Judy O'Bannon, First Lady of Indiana at the time, presented her with the Retired Seniors Volunteer Program (RSVP) Volunteer Award in 1997 in Indianapolis. Mrs. Yates also was chosen 2003 Auxilian of the Year by the ten hospital auxiliaries in southwestern Indiana. At the time of the honor, Mrs. Yates, still an active hospital volunteer, was 95 years old and had given leadership to the auxiliary for 28 years.

She established an Endowed Scholarship Fund in 1984 in memory of her husband. These scholarships, for high school seniors from Evangelical United Church of Christ in Tell City, have helped over 50 students with college expenses. She also established an endowed scholarship at Eden Theological Seminary in St. Louis.

Mrs. Yates was a close friend of the University of Southern Indiana. She was a member of Reflections, the Planned Giving Society of the USI Foundation, and an annual underwriter of New Harmony Theatre. Mrs. Yates had established the Ruth Gray Yates Endowed Presidential Scholarship and a four-year named Presidential Scholarship. She enjoyed corresponding with the recipients of her scholarships.

Receiving an honorary Doctor of Laws degree is John M. Dunn, a business and civic leader who has been actively involved in the development of the University of Southern Indiana.

John M. Dunn

John Dunn began his business career in Evansville after an honorable discharge from the United States Air Force, hence his love of flying and current ownership of a Cessna 310. He began at Fuqua Industries in 1959, which owned WROZ Radio and WTVW Channel 7. Mr. Dunn started in the sales department and by 1964 had been promoted to vice president and general manager of WROZ. In 1968, he was transferred to television.

In 1969, Mr. Dunn and a partner created Medco Centers Nursing Homes. Nine years later when he sold the properties to a Canadian firm, there were 28 Medco Centers throughout Indiana and Kentucky, which also included pharmaceutical and physical therapy subsidiaries.

Mr. Dunn began to focus on new ventures—the hotel industry, radio stations, television stations, and land development. He re-entered the broadcast business by purchasing radio stations in Rhode Island, New Mexico, and Texas. At the same time, he built his first hotel, the Williamsburg Inn, at the corner of Division Street and Green River Road. Over the past 25 years, Dunn Hospitality Group, the management group founded by Mr. Dunn in 1978, has built or acquired 20 hotels in Indiana, Illinois, and Kentucky, and currently owns and operates 16.

In 1990, Mr. Dunn and Bill Koester formed a joint venture to develop a 70-acre piece of land on Evansville's east side, now known as Eagle Crest Commerce Centre. At the groundbreaking for the Dunn-owned Hampton Inn, the first business to be located there, the mayor proclaimed Eagle Crest as Evansville's "new front door."

Throughout the years, Mr. Dunn has endeavored to enrich the community by restoring historical buildings—the Carpenter Home, now home to WNIN-Channel 9, was restored and used as the corporate office for the Medco Centers; and the McCurdy Residential Center was once a Medco Center.

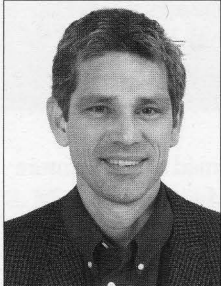

Mr. Dunn is president and chief executive officer of Dunn Hospitality Group. He also is chairman of the Board of Directors for Tri-State Youth for Christ. He sits on the Corporate Board of Directors for Old National Community Bank, Vectren, and South Central Communications. He also is on the Board of Directors for community groups that include Boys and Girls Club of Evansville, Evansville Metropolitan Chamber of Commerce, St. Mary's Health Systems, Welborn Foundation, Welborn Baptist Foundation, WNIN-TV/FM88, and the YMCA. Mr. Dunn recently received the Rotary Civic Award, given annually by the Rotary Club of Evansville.

A long-time member of the USI Foundation Board of Directors, Mr. Dunn served as chairman of the Board from 2000-2002. He also is a member of the Advisory Council for Indiana University Medical School, Evansville Center; The Salvation Army; and is a trustee and member of Church of the Cross in Evansville.

Mr. Dunn holds the Bachelor of Science degree cum laude from Oakland City University. He was awarded an honorary Doctor of Humanities degree from his alma mater in 1977.

Mr. Dunn and his wife Gail have three daughters.

GENE FREUDENBURG WILL RECEIVE DISTINGUISHED PROFESSOR AWARD

Gene Freudenburg

Dr. Gene Freudenburg, associate professor of mathematics, was chosen by his colleagues to receive the Integra Bank Distinguished Professor Award, given in recognition of significant achievement in teaching, scholarship, and service.

An internationally known mathematician, Dr. Freudenburg is known for his research with commutative algebra and algebraic geometry. His research centers around algebraic automorphisms of affine varieties, derivatives or polynomial rings, algebraic group actions, and invariant theory. His research is at the forefront of scholarship for his discipline and his writings appear in prestigious scholarly journals. Dr. Freudenburg has been invited to write a book on \mathbb{G}_a -Actions and Locally Nilpotent Derivations, one area of his research.

Dr. Freudenburg holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Valparaiso University, a Master of Science from St. Louis University, and a Doctor of Philosophy in Mathematics from Washington University. He joined the USI faculty in 1995 after teaching for three years at Ball State University. A sought-after lecturer, Dr. Freudenburg has held visiting appointments at University of Basel in Switzerland and University of Bourgogne in Dijon, France. Last fall, he also conducted a week-long workshop for graduate students in mathematics at University of Warsaw in Lukecin, Poland.

Dr. Freudenburg's research has been supported by a grant from the National Science Foundation.

A colleague who nominated him cited his day-to-day interactions with students and colleagues, saying he is a willing mentor for aspiring math students desiring to continue the study of mathematics at the graduate level. Another said, "In an age where emphasis on teaching equals or surpasses emphasis on research, his credentials in both areas make him a most valuable colleague."

Dr. Freudenburg has served as chair of the Faculty and Academic Affairs Committee, the University Assessment Committee, the Review Committee for Science and Engineering Research and Grants Awards, and as alternate representative to Faculty Senate. He also has served on the Tenure and Promotion Committee and has been a frequent volunteer for math contests, student recruitment, and student orientation programs.

As Distinguished Professor, Dr. Freudenburg will receive a grant from Integra Bank, will select a student to receive a scholarship in his name next year, and will deliver the Distinguished Professor Lecture during the next academic year.

RACHEL MILLER CHOSEN FOR PRESIDENT'S MEDAL

Rachel Miller

The Student Affairs Committee of the Faculty Senate selected Rachel J. Miller, a senior from Delphi, Indiana, as this year's recipient of the President's Medal. She was chosen because of her commitment to academic excellence and her service to the University and to the community. She will graduate summa cum laude with majors in mathematics, math teaching, and French.

Ms. Miller holds the Edmund L. Hafer & Associates Presidential Scholarship at USI. Her many honors include the Trustees Distinguished Merit Award, Liberal Arts Mirabella Award, Student Academic Excellence Award for Calculus, Academic Excellence Award for French, USI History Club Award, Ambassador of the Year, and USI Homecoming Court. She was named to the Golden Key Honor Society, Sigma Zeta Math and Science Honorary Society, and is a graduate of the Honors Program. As one of her nominators expressed, Ms. Miller was never content with just belonging to a club or organization, but rather she was an active participant and often held an office. She has given leadership as an officer of Mu Gamma Pi (Math Club) and of the French Club, and her memberships also included the Student Education

Association and the Mathematical Association of America. She participated in USI intramurals, the Susan G. Komen Race for the Cure, the Student Ambassador and AMIGO orientation leader programs, and was a residence hall mentor and math tutor.

In spring 2003, Ms. Miller studied at the University of Sunderland in England. Competing with students there, most of whom had studied at the Sorbonne in Paris for a semester or more, she won top marks in the final French capstone class as well as in English literature. She applied through the Fulbright Committee for a French Government Teaching Assistantship and was chosen to win the award, but she has decided instead to return to England to teach secondary school mathematics and be married.

Ms. Miller plans to begin work on her master's degree in mathematics and ultimately to earn a doctorate and teach in a university setting. She also plans to become fluent in other languages, saying her lifelong goal is to always continue learning—to remain a student.

She is the daughter of Mark and Ruth Miller of Delphi, Indiana.

Other finalists for the President's Medal were Emily Campbell, Mary Loraine (Lorie) Syester, Andrew Aldenderfer, and Erin Ward.

Presidential Medallion

During the Middle Ages, medallions signified membership in religious orders and guilds and, in the Renaissance, membership in elite orders of knighthood and prominence in government office. Today, colleges and universities strike medallions to commemorate important events and achievements. The University of Southern Indiana Presidential Medallion signifies the authority invested in the president.

Fabricated in bronze, the Presidential Medallion celebrates the 1995 inauguration of President H. Ray Hoops. At its center the bronze medallion bears a three-inch reproduction of the University seal, surrounded by a half-inch rim; on the back of the medallion are the names and dates of appointment of the University's presidents. During today's ceremony, a replica of the Presidential Medallion will be presented to Rachel J. Miller. This is the highest honor given to a graduating senior.

University Seal

The University seal bears the University's colors—red, white, and blue—with gold. The shield signifies the importance of higher education in defending citizens against ignorance. Between the two banners carrying the University's name appear a band and an open book bound together by the torch of knowledge. In the band, rays of light emanate simultaneously from a rising sun, symbolizing the young University, and from the torch, symbolizing the light of knowledge and the passion for scholarship. Trees on either side of the flame suggest not only the University's pastoral southern Indiana setting but also life, growth, continuity.

Beneath this band, an open book emphasizes the importance of teaching and learning; academia populi and academia populo indicate that the University of Southern Indiana is a scholarly academy founded and supported by the people, for the people. Finally, the laurel branches to the right and left of the book represent victory: the light of learning overcomes the darkness of ignorance.

University Mace

In the Middle Ages, bodyguards of French and English monarchs carried ceremonial maces. Later, the mace became an important symbol of office in civil processions and academic pageantry; at the University of Southern Indiana, the Grand Marshal, a distinguished member of the faculty, carries the mace.

A replica of the walking cane of Richard Owen (1810-1890) serves as the centerpiece of the University mace. A respected geologist and professor of natural science at Indiana University, Owen became the first president of Purdue University. He was a son of Robert Owen (1771-1858), the Welsh industrialist who established New Harmony, Indiana, as a center for education and enlightened social reform in the early 1800s. The 32-inch-tall, wooden cane was presented to Richard Owen in 1874 and, through the generosity of his descendant Kenneth D. Owen, served as the Grand Marshal's staff until the mace was fabricated for the University's first Presidential Inauguration in 1995.

Designed and fabricated by Nicholas Logsdon of Indianapolis, the University mace encloses a replica of the Owen cane and is goldplated. At the top, above the cane's golden head, an open orb holds a replica of the University seal. The free-flowing design of the orb symbolizes the inter-relationships among all academic disciplines. Below the cane's tip are three golden rings engraved with the names and appointment dates of the University presidents. A finial at the tip of the cane bears the names of Kenneth Dale Owen, Jane Blaffer Owen, and James A. Sanders, donors of the mace.

Designed and created by alumnus Kenny Fisher '77, the replica of the cane and the base are made of walnut from the Owen mansion built in New Harmony during the 1830s. The University mace is cared for by Paul F. Groeninger, Master Jeweler.

Academic Dress

The academic costume dates from medieval days when university students wore woolen and fur garments for warmth in damp and drafty buildings. Most of those studying were clerics in holy orders; they wore a cloak to which was attached a hood that could be pulled up to cover their tonsured heads. Simplified today, the costume serves to remind us that its wearer is a member of an ancient and venerable profession; it also indicates by its color and design the wearer's degree and the institution by which the degree was conferred.

In the United States, black has been the traditional color for academic gowns, but some institutions authorize holders of their doctorates to wear colors of the institution. The bachelor's gown is distinguished by its long, open sleeves; the master's by its closed, slitted sleeves; the doctor's by its full sleeves trimmed with bands of velvet, which may be black or a color denoting the field in which the degree was taken.

The mortarboard cap, proper for all degrees, is black. Tassels, usually black, are worn over the left front quarter of the cap. Holders of the doctorate may wear tassels of gold thread.

Academic hoods vary in length according to the degree attained and are lined with the colors of the institution by which the degree was granted. The honorary doctoral hoods of the University of Southern Indiana are black, lined with blue satin with red satin chevrons. They are edged with white velvet.

Alumni Association Pins

Graduates in today's ceremony are receiving lapel pins with the University logo as a gift from the University of Southern Indiana Alumni Association.

Baccalaureate Scholarship Honors

The baccalaureate degree candidate graduating with the highest scholarship index is graduated summa cum laude. Baccalaureate students graduating with a scholarship index of 3.80 or higher are graduated magna cum laude. Those with a scholarship index between 3.60 and 3.80 are graduated cum laude. These achievements are set forth on the individual diplomas. Honor students can be recognized in the Commencement Exercises by colored stoles and tassels. Gold indicates summa cum laude; red, magna cum laude; and blue, cum laude.

Because students enrolled in master's degree programs are expected to maintain a minimum grade-point average of 3.0, and most achieve much higher levels, scholarship honors at Commencement are given only to baccalaureate students.

University

Honors Scholars

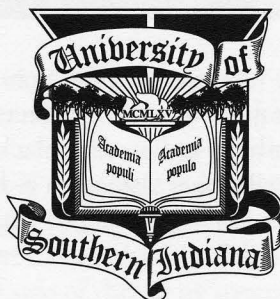

The designation of University Honors Scholar is awarded to students who successfully complete the Honors Program. They can be recognized in today's ceremony by the white honor cords worn with their regalia.

Photography During Ceremony

A commercial photographer is taking photographs of each graduate as he/she shakes hands with the President. Each graduate will receive a proof from which duplicates can be ordered. Family members who wish to take still or video photographs during the ceremony are asked to use the restricted area on the floor. Security guards will ask those who block aisles in the stands or occupy the area behind the stage to move. Your cooperation ensures the dignity of the Commencement ceremony.

Commemorative Video

In response to requests from graduates and families, a high-quality commemorative videotape of today's ceremony is being produced by the USI Office of Instructional Technology Services in cooperation with the USI Alumni Association. The tape includes the entire ceremony, depicting each graduate receiving a diploma, as well as candid behind-the-scenes shots. To order a videotape ($20 each) please call 800/813-4238 or 812/464-1924.
