LINDA L. M. BENNETT TO DELIVER COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

Linda L. M. Bennett

The speaker for the Graduate Ceremony is USI president, Dr. Linda L. M. Bennett. Bennett became USI's third president in July 2009, after serving as USI's provost and vice president for Academic Affairs from 2003 to 2009.

In her first year as president, she led the effort to establish the University's first strategic plan, raising academic standards and enhancing campus life for students. She is currently leading the University through its second strategic plan to continue until 2020. During her tenure, the USI Foundation led its second successful capital campaign, Campaign USI – Elevating Excellence, concluding in 2016 with gift commitments of more than $57 million. The University continued to experience growth with the addition of over $100 million in building projects. Under her leadership, USI saw growth in academic programs as the University established its first two doctoral programs—Doctor of Nursing Practice and Doctor of Education; undergraduate degrees including Manufacturing, Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, Health Informatics; as well as an online Master of Business Administration program.

An active civic leader, Bennett serves on the boards of WNIN Public Broadcasting, Deaconess Health Systems and the Welborn Baptist Foundation, among others. In the broader higher education community, she has served as chair of the NCAA Division II Great Lakes Valley Conference Council of Presidents, on the Executive Committee of the Coalition for Urban and Metropolitan Universities and has been an active member of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU).

She was recognized as the 2015 Evansville Rotary Civic Award winner, the 2016 Indiana Commission for Women Torchbearer Award and Trailblazer Award recipient, the 2017 Boy Scouts of America Buffalo Trace Council Distinguished Citizen Award winner and, in 2018, the Girl Scouts of Southwest Indiana Woman of Distinction Honoree and the Leadership Evansville Lifetime Achievement Award.

Bennett is a native of Cincinnati, Ohio. She earned bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees in political science from the University of Cincinnati. She came to USI from Appalachian State University in Boone, North Carolina, where she served from 1999–2003 as dean of the College of Arts and Sciences and professor of political science.

Bennett and her husband, Dr. Stephen Bennett, reside in Evansville. She is retiring in June 2018.

MARSHALL L. BYERS TO DELIVER COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

Marshall L. Byers '94 M'19

The 2018 Commencement speaker for the Romain College of Business is Marshall L. Byers '94. He graduated from USI in 1994 with a bachelor's degree in business administration with a concentration in finance, and he is enrolled in USI's Master of Business Administration online program with expected graduation in spring of 2019. He is currently the private client advisor vice president for investments for J.P. Morgan Chase in Indianapolis.

Byers started his banking career with Key Bank in 2002. He began as a branch manager where he profitably managed Key Bank's largest Indiana branch, earning growth and profitability awards for three consecutive years. He also coached and mentored bank employees to identify investment opportunities from new and existing bank clients. In 2006, he became a financial advisor for Key Investment Services, where he provided comprehensive needs based on financial solutions to clients by offering a range of investment solutions.

In his current role with J.P. Morgan Chase, he helps families solve complex financial problems, define investment goals, and implement and monitor investment and retirement plans. He also is a trainer and mentor for the bankers of Chase Private Client.

Byers is a U.S. Army veteran, having served in Central America and the Republic of Korea. He is a member of several service organizations, including Phi Beta Sigma fraternity, Frontiers International – Indianapolis Chapter and Business Ownership of Indiana (BOI), where he is past chair. BOI aims to help central Indiana residents start and grow businesses through free one-on-one business coaching and access to training and resources. Byers also is a discussion leader with Bible Study Fellowship.

He, his wife Moraa and their daughter, Gabi, reside in Indianapolis. Moraa is currently enrolled in the USI Masters of Nursing program.

PATRICIA S. AVERY TO DELIVER COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

Patricia S. Avery '04

The 2018 College of Liberal Arts Commencement speaker is Patricia S. Avery '04. A graduate of USI, Avery completed a bachelor of science degree in radio and television with an emphasis in journalism in 2004. She is currently a financial empowerment program specialist at Consumer Financial Protection Bureau in Washington, D.C.

After graduating, Avery began a career at Old National Bank where she served in various roles – director of associate communications, Bank on Evansville project manager and community outreach officer. As the community outreach officer, Avery maintained partnerships with the Indiana National Guard, Ivy Tech Community College and replicated the “Bank on” model in 15 Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky communities.

In her current position with the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, she leads the development of training and implementation materials that equip non-profits and other service providers to implement the Your Money, Your Goals: A financial empowerment toolkit program. Since the program’s field test and launch in 2013–2014, the program has recruited federal, national, state, tribal and local organizations that have trained over 25,000 individuals in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and three territories.

Avery has served the community through organizations such as Aurora, the lead agency for the Commission on Homelessness, which was the umbrella for the Raising Incomes and Homeless Youth work. She served as the American Cancer Society Cancer Action Network’s (ACS CAN) State Lead Ambassador, and on the American Cancer Society’s CEO Strategic Advisory Committee for Advocacy. She is currently a member of the ACS CAN National Ambassador Team.

Her professional and community work has led to numerous presentations and public speaking engagements. Avery has been recognized for her leadership efforts with the following awards: Leadership Evansville Individual Award in Government and Public Service; Phenomenal Women of USI and the Community; Thomas R. Early Humanitarian Award from the Tri-State Alliance; State Lead Ambassador of the Year; Advocate of the Year from the United Way of Southwestern Indiana; and in 2017, the Albion Fellows Bacon Award from the Women’s Equality Day of Evansville.

Avery and her husband Dennis reside in Evansville. Together, they have five children and five grandsons.

KIRT A. PAGE TO DELIVER COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

Kirt A. Page '98

Dr. Kirt A. Page '98 is the speaker for the 2018 Pott College of Science, Engineering, and Education Commencement ceremony. He recently accepted the position of Dean of Academic Affairs at Connect University in Yangon, Myanmar.

A graduate of USI, Page received a bachelor of science in chemistry in 1998, graduating cum laude. He was honored with a Fulbright fellowship at the University of Mainz in Germany after graduating from USI. He earned his PhD in polymer science and engineering from the University of Southern Mississippi in 2005.

In 2005, he began working with the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) as a National Research Council postdoctoral fellow. His research focused on developing a fundamental understanding of the structure and dynamics of polymers in confined geometries and polymer brush systems, using a variety of characterization techniques including x-ray and neutron scattering. His career at NIST continued until 2015 with various roles as staff scientist in the materials science and engineering and polymers divisions, and science advisor in the material measurement laboratory.

In 2014, his family moved to New Delhi, India, due to his wife's work, and Page became a high school mathematics and science instructor at the American Embassy School. When they moved to Yangon, Myanmar, in 2017, he began working as a freelance science editor, writer and educator.

Page's most recent position of Dean of Academic Affairs at Connect University is most significant because of the current growth of higher education in Myanmar. In this role, he is the chief academic officer responsible for planning, implementing and coordinating the educational programming and academic policies of Connect University. He also is the first faculty member focused on science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM) curriculum development and implementation with a focus on physics and calculus.

Recognition for Page's research includes a multitude of publications and awards, but most notably, he was one of 15 U.S. delegates chosen out of more than 300 applicants to participate in the Arab-American Frontiers of Science, Engineering and Medicine Symposium.

KIMBERLY J. HARPER TO DELIVER COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

Kimberly J. Harper '87 '13

Kimberly J. Harper '87 '13 is the 2018 Commencement speaker for the College of Nursing and Health Professions. She received a diploma in nursing from Deaconess Hospital School of Nursing in 1976. In 1987, she earned her first degree from USI, a bachelor of science in nursing, and in 2013, a bachelor of science in health administration. Harper also received a master of science degree from Indiana Wesleyan University in 1991.

Currently, Harper is the chief executive officer at the Indiana Center for Nursing in Indianapolis. She is responsible for the overall direction of the activities related to the creation and ongoing growth of the state-wide Indiana Center for Nursing. Her role also includes operational and fiscal management, public relations, communications, fundraising and strategic planning of the 501(c)(3) organization at both the state and national level.

Prior to working for the Indiana Center for Nursing, Harper worked for Indiana University for nearly 30 years. Most of that time was with Indiana University Medical Center where she was in several administrative roles. In 2001, she became vice president of Wishard Health Services (now Eskenazi Health), an Indiana University partner.

She has participated in a year-long training program with the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Strategic Communications Fellowship. She also has certification as a public information officer with the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, and she completed a fellowship for communication of public policy with America's Essential Hospitals.

Her personal engagement and leadership extends internationally with Sigma Theta Tau and the Global Nursing Exchange, and the International Council of Nursing, where she has become a frequent international speaker. Nationally, Harper serves on many boards and coalitions in the health industry, and currently serves as the board chair-elect for the National Nurses on Boards Coalition, where she will become board chair July 1. She also is active with regional organizations directly affecting health care in Indiana.

She frequently presents nationally and internationally, and has been recognized with numerous awards. Most recently, in 2017, she was the USI Distinguished Nursing Alumni Award recipient and the Indiana State Nurses Association winner of the Excellence in Professional Practice Award.

Harper and her husband Bob live in Indianapolis. They have two children and three grandchildren.

USI BESTOWS THREE HONORARY DEGREES FOR

This weekend's honorary degree recipients are celebrated in the University of Southern Indiana community for their continued dedication to higher education and the student experience. The recipients also are active with many civic organizations and non-profits in Southern Indiana and the Tri-state.

Daniel M. and Janet L. Fuquay and Chris D. Melton '72 will receive honorary Doctor of Laws degrees. The honorary degrees will be bestowed during the Graduate Ceremony.

Daniel M. and Janet L. Fuquay of Evansville have repeatedly demonstrated their commitment to higher education and to the USI student experience. Both attended Reitz High School and Indiana University, where Dan has a bachelor of science in business and Janet has a bachelor of arts in Spanish and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

They married in 1968 and continued their education, obtaining master's degrees. Dan attended the University of Arkansas in Germany where he received a Master of Business Administration while serving in the United States Air Force. Janet received a Master of Arts from Middlebury College and then worked in Germany as a teacher.

Dan was a pilot with the United States Air Force and achieved the rank of captain while serving in the Vietnam War and Germany. He was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross with two Oak Leaf Clusters and the Air Medal with 15 Oak Leaf Clusters. Upon returning to the States, Dan was general manager for Hahn, Inc. for nearly a decade before founding D & F Distributors, Inc., which became a leading provider of industrial, commercial and municipal pumps and related equipment. When he sold the company, it had six offices in Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee.

Janet taught Spanish before publishing a television facts magazine and later owning a Dunhill franchise to recruit medical personnel nationwide.

They are members of the USI President's Circle, Reflections Society, and support students through the Daniel M. and Janet L. Fuquay Presidential Scholarship Endowment. An engineering lab at USI is sponsored by the Fuquays in honor of Janet's father, Lloyd C. Hahn. Dan is a life member of the USI Foundation Board of Directors. Additionally, the Fuquay Welcome Center, a new entrance point currently under construction on campus for visitors, was made possible through the Fuquays' generous leadership gift to Campaign USI: Elevating Excellence. In 2017, they were honored with the USI Honorary Alumni Award for their commitment to USI.

The Fuquays' community involvement includes membership with the Evansville Museum, life members of the Indiana University Foundation, Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority, Delta Upsilon Fraternity, Institute for Justice and St. Paul's United Church of Christ. Dan is a board member for Andrea Remembered Inc., a non-profit established by their son, Dan, that raises funds for USI scholarships and cancer research through the Cholangiocarcinoma Foundation.

The Fuquays reside in Evansville and enjoy time with their two sons, their spouses and nine grandchildren.

DISTINGUISHED AND EXTRAORDINARY SERVICE

Chris D. Melton '72 has long been a friend of the University and an active member of the community. He graduated from USI in 1972 with a bachelor of science in business, and in 1987, continued his education at the University of Wisconsin Graduate School of Banking.

After his sophomore year, at the age of 19, Melton worked as a financial intern with the U. S. Treasury Department examining national banks in Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky, and was a national bank examiner until 1978. Melton's career successes include president of National City Bank, senior vice-president and chief lending officer at AmBank Indiana, senior vice-president and chief credit officer at German American Bank, and president at Field and Main Bank, retiring in June 2015.

While at National City Bank, he worked with the late C. Wayne Worthington, an early supporter of efforts to bring higher education to southern Indiana, and a supporter of USI. Beginning in 1979, Melton helped Southern Indiana Higher Education, Inc. (SIHE) arrange financing to build housing for USI students. He served on the SIHE

Chris D. Melton '72

Board for 25 years, 20 of those as president. With his leadership, the group completed its work. SIHE disbanded in 2008, transferring 1,200 acres of land to the USI Foundation. An additional gift of $500,000 assured continued growth for the University and scholarships for deserving students. A street in campus housing named "Melton Lane" honors him for his impact.

In addition to his role at SIHE, Melton served on presidential search committees for both H. Ray Hoops and Linda L. M. Bennett.

His continued involvement includes the USI Foundation Board of Directors, the USI President's Associates, the USI Foundation 50th Anniversary Committee and the USI Alumni Association.

Community involvement includes membership in the Evansville Rotary Club, I-69 BridgeLink Board, lifetime member of the WNIN Board of Directors and St. Benedict's Knights of Columbus. He is a past president of the Henderson Rotary Club and a Paul Harris Fellow. Melton is an SBA-certified mentor to small business owners and a commercial lending consultant to First Federal Savings Bank.

He has been awarded the USI Alumni Service Award, The President's Circle and the Suzanne B. Nicholson Leadership Award.

Melton and his wife, Diana Hale Melton, class of 1971, reside in Evansville. They enjoy time with their son, daughter, their spouses and four grandchildren.

Honorary degrees are awarded for distinguished and extraordinary service consistent with the mission of the University. That service may be to the University itself, and/or to local, statewide, national or international communities. Individuals selected to receive an honorary degree exemplify the highest ideals of integrity, service and dedication to learning.

Candidate applications for honorary degrees from the University of Southern Indiana are reviewed by a committee defined by the honorary degree award policy. Recommendations are submitted to the president for approval by the USI Board of Trustees. Such a degree is the highest form of recognition granted by USI.

VIRGILIO E. PAULINO TO RECEIVE PRESIDENT'S MEDAL

Virgilio E. Paulino '18

Virgilio E. Paulino '18 graduates magna cum laude with a bachelor of arts in political science and bachelor of arts in philosophy. An excellent student in the classroom, Paulino also is recognized for his compassion and dedication to service.

During the College of Liberal Arts Commencement Ceremony, Paulino will receive the President's Medal, the highest honor presented to a graduate in the Class of 2018.

As a young child, Paulino grew up in the Dominican Republic. Upon arrival in the United States, he began to experience a sense of security and order that has been a guide for his future. His goal is to use the law to bring justice and security to the world.

While at USI, Paulino has served in various capacities, including Student Ambassadors, Lambda Chi Alpha, Spanish Club, Philosophy Club, Emerging Leaders, Student Government Association, National Society of Collegiate Scholars and Pre-Law Club, where he serves as president. As a member of the USI Honors Program, he has served as an honors mentor, and he is a member of USI's Political Science Honor Society.

Paulino has been praised for his service while at USI, but his most notable acknowledgments are in regard to his character. He has been described as articulate, thoughtful, professional, mature, cheerful and an excellent student.

His display of servant leadership has been most visible while serving as resident assistant for USI's Global Community Living Learning Community, a position he has held for three years. He embodies the ability to deal effectively and empathetically with people from around the world. Not only does he possess the unique ability to get along well with people from diverse backgrounds, he is able to understand the world from their perspective. His compassion has earned him respect among his peers by virtue of who he is and what he has done.

Outside of the classroom and his leadership roles, Paulino enjoys volunteering with the American Red Cross, Spruce Up USI, and has served as a Spanish to English translator on a medical mission to the Dominican Republic. He participates in USI flag football intramurals and Activities Programming Board movie nights; represented USI at the Chicago Kent College of Law PLUS Program; and was a USI Core 39 student worker.

Paulino has worked on numerous projects, including the Dean's Advisory Council, USI Administrative Appeals Committee, as a representative of the University student body during Senator Lugar and Congressman Hamilton's visit to campus, at the Gubernatorial Debate and during the Fuquay Welcome Center groundbreaking.

During his years at USI, Paulino has received many accolades, including Distinguished Sophomore Award, Ann and Matthew Hanka Political Science Scholarship, Provost Top Student Leader Award, USI Foundation Excellence in Learning Award, USI Philosophy Recognition Award, USI Political Science Club Award, USI Law Scholar recipient, Sherrienne Standley University Service Scholarship and 2016-2017 Homecoming King.

Paulino is the son of Mercedes and Erion Babe of North Carolina. He has three brothers, Rafael, Nicholas and Sebastian. After graduation, Paulino plans to attend law school at Indiana University.

Other finalists for the President's Medal from the Class of 2018 included Angela M. DaCosta, Shannon E. Farrell and Paige T. Spieth.

The Student Affairs Committee of the Faculty Senate select the President's Medal recipient.

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN INDIANA: KNOWLEDGE FOR LIFE

President Linda L. M. Bennett became the third president of the University of Southern Indiana in 2009. In her inaugural address, she referenced the University's founding in 1965 and said, "Service to a greater good was a primary reason the University of Southern Indiana was created. It is our touchstone, and years after our founding and emergence as a separate state University, there is little doubt that USI is delivering on the promise of its founding."

From its earliest stage of planning in the early 1960s, community leaders have supported the University by providing a solid base for its present success and future growth. Local leaders worked with members of the Indiana General Assembly and governor's office to establish a public higher education campus. For the last 50 years, the University has continued to uphold its mission under the strong leadership of its first two presidents, David L. Rice and H. Ray Hoops, and now Bennett.

The University of Southern Indiana began on September 15, 1965, in the old Centennial School Building, offering classes to 412 students. In 1967 Southern Indiana Higher Education, Inc. (SIHE) raised nearly $1 million to acquire the land where the campus now sits. Groundbreaking for the campus was held on June 22, 1968, and the University moved to its present site four miles west of the city limits of Evansville in September 1969, graduated its first class of baccalaureate degree students in 1971, and achieved initial North Central Association accreditation in 1974.

USI Today

USI enrolls more than 11,000 undergraduate, dual credit and graduate students in more than 100 areas of study. A public higher education institution located on a beautiful 1,400-acre campus in Evansville, Indiana, USI offers programs through the Romain College of Business, College of Liberal Arts, College of Nursing and Health Professions and the Pott College of Science, Engineering, and Education.

USI is a Carnegie Foundation Community Engaged University and offers continuing education and special programs to more than 16,000 participants annually through Outreach and Engagement. The University offers study-abroad opportunities in many countries and is host to international students from around the globe.

Outreach projects include the administration of Historic New Harmony, New Harmony Theatre, Historic Southern Indiana, New Harmony Gallery of Contemporary Art, Center for Communal Studies, Epi-Hab Center for Disability Studies and the Southern Indiana Japanese School, among others.

A competitive member of NCAA Division II and the Great Lakes Valley Conference, USI offers 17 varsity intercollegiate men's and women's sports.

Under the leadership of President Bennett, the University continues a tradition of affordable excellence through innovation and engagement, and positions USI as a top choice for high-caliber college students across the state, nationally and internationally.

The University of Southern Indiana has embarked on its second strategic plan. The first five-year strategic plan concluded in 2015. The 2016-2020 strategic plan includes three overarching goals:

- Excellence in Learning for the Entire USI Community
- Access and Opportunity by Design
- Purposeful and Sustainable Growth

These three goals will frame the University's strategies as it moves forward.

Today, more than 41,000 alumni have been awarded diplomas from the University of Southern Indiana. USI graduates are renowned surgeons, bank executives, artists, leaders in K-12 education, accounting executives, lawyers, nurses, hospital administrators, college professors and elected officials—and they are involved in their communities.

COMMENCEMENT TRADITIONS

Presidential Medallion

During the Middle Ages, medallions signified membership in religious orders and guilds; in the Renaissance, membership in elite orders of knighthood and prominence in government office. Today, colleges and universities strike medallions to commemorate important events and achievements.

Donated by the late Melvin Denner, professor emeritus of biology, and Anne Denner, former instructor in nutrition and biology, and their family, this medallion was fabricated by Honorcraft for the 1995 inauguration of USI President H. Ray Hoops. Dr. Denner served as grand marshal at the University's first inauguration.

The University of Southern Indiana Presidential Medallion signifies the authority invested in the president.

The medallion's obverse carries, at its center, a three-inch reproduction of the University seal and, surrounding the seal, a half-inch rim. On the reverse appear the names and dates of appointment for the University's presidents. The president wears this medallion for all formal academic ceremonies.

During the College of Liberal Arts Ceremony, a replica of the Presidential Medallion will be presented to Virgilio E. Paulino '18. This is the highest honor given to a graduating senior.

Gonfalons

Ceremonial flags called gonfalons originated in the Middle Ages for civil and military processions, often appearing beneath the steel head of a knight's lance.

In Italy, gonfalons designated individual Italian republics; the chief magistrate, or other high official, served as gonfalonier carrying the banner.

At the University of Southern Indiana, gonfalons represent each major academic unit; typically deans or department heads act as gonfaloniers. Here gonfalon colors derive from traditional hues associated with each college's academic disciplines. Our Commencement gonfalons came as a gift from the USI Campus Store.

University Seal

The University Seal, designed by Nussmeier Engraving, bears the University's colors—red, white and blue—with gold. The shield signifies the importance of higher education in defending citizens against ignorance.

Between the two banners displaying the University's name appear a band and an open book, bound together by the torch of knowledge. In the band, rays of light emanate simultaneously from a rising sun, symbolizing the young University and, from the torch, symbolizing the light of knowledge and the passion for scholarship. Trees on either side of the flame suggest not only the University's pastoral Southern Indiana setting but also life, growth and continuity.

Beneath this band, an open book emphasizes the importance of teaching and learning; academia populi and academia populo indicate that the University of Southern Indiana is a scholarly academy founded and supported by the people, for the people. Finally, the laurel branches to the right and left of the book represent victory: the light of learning overcomes the darkness of ignorance.

University Mace

In the Middle Ages, bodyguards of French and English monarchs carried ceremonial maces. Later, the mace became an important symbol of office in civil processions and academic pageantry. At the University of Southern Indiana, the grand marshal, a distinguished member of the faculty, carries the mace.

A replica of Richard Owen's walking cane serves as the staff for the University Mace. A respected geologist and professor of natural science at Indiana University, Owen was the first president of Purdue University. He was a son of Robert Owen, the Welsh industrialist who established New Harmony, Indiana, as a center for education and enlightened social reform in the early 1800s. The 32-inch tall wooden cane was presented to Richard Owen in 1874. Through the generosity of his descendant, the late Kenneth D. Owen, that cane, lent to USI, served as the grand marshal's staff in all Commencement exercises from 1985 to 1995.

Designed and fabricated by Nicholas Logsdon of Indianapolis, the gold-plated mace bears at the top, above the cane's golden head, an open orb with a replica of the University Seal.

The orb's free-flowing design symbolizes interrelationships among all academic disciplines. Immediately below the cane's orb, three two-inch, golden rings bear the names and appointment dates of the University presidents. The names of Kenneth Dale Owen, Jane Blaffer Owen and James A. Sanders, donors of the mace, appear on a finial near the bottom of the cane replica.

Designed and created by alumnus Kenny Fisher '77, the replica of the cane and its base are made of walnut from the Owen mansion built in New Harmony during the 1830s.

COMMENCEMENT TRADITIONS

Academic Regalia

The academic costume dates from medieval days when university students wore woolen and fur garments for warmth in damp and drafty buildings. Most of those studying were clerics in holy orders; they wore a cloak to which was attached a hood that could be pulled up to cover their tonsured heads.

Simplified today, the costume serves to remind us that its wearer is a member of an ancient and venerable profession; it also indicates, by its color and design, the wearer's degree and the institution by which the degree was conferred.

In the United States, black has been the traditional color for academic gowns, but some institutions authorize holders of their doctorates to wear colors of the institution. The bachelor's gown is distinguished by its long, open sleeves; the master's by its closed, slitted sleeves; the doctor's by its full sleeves trimmed with bands of velvet, which may be black or a color denoting the field in which the degree was taken.

The mortarboard cap, proper for all degrees, is black. Tassels, usually black, are worn over the left front quarter of the cap. Holders of the doctorate may wear tassels of gold thread.

Academic hoods vary in length according to the degree attained and are lined with the colors of the institution by which the degree was granted. The honorary doctoral hoods of the University of Southern Indiana are black, lined with blue satin with red satin chevrons. They are edged with white velvet. Retired members of the University faculty can be recognized in today's ceremony by the red, white and blue cords or a replica of the Presidential Medallion with a blue ribbon worn with their regalia.

The Distinguished Professor Award is the highest recognition bestowed upon a faculty member at the University of Southern Indiana. Faculty who have received this award can be recognized in today's ceremony by the blue and red stole embroidered with the University Seal worn with their regalia.

Hooding Ceremony

Academic hoods vary in length according to the degree attained and are lined with the colors of the institution by which the degree was granted. Hooding signifies the induction of the graduate into the fellowship of the academy, a welcoming gesture by those who represent the high standards of scholarship and creative achievement.

Doctoral and master's degree candidates will receive hoods distinctive to their degrees.

Baccalaureate Scholarship Honors

The baccalaureate degree candidate graduating with the highest scholarship index graduates summa cum laude. Baccalaureate students graduating with a scholarship index of 3.80 or higher graduate magna cum laude. Those with a scholarship index between 3.60 and 3.80 graduate cum laude. These achievements are set forth on the individual diplomas. Honor students can be recognized in the Commencement exercises by colored stoles and tassels. Gold indicates summa cum laude; red, magna cum laude; and blue, cum laude.

Because students enrolled in doctoral and master's degree programs are expected to maintain a minimum grade point average of 3.0, and most achieve much higher levels, scholarship honors at Commencement are given only to baccalaureate students.

University Honors Scholars

The designation of University Honors Scholar is awarded to students who successfully complete the Honors Program. They can be recognized in the Commencement ceremony by the white honor cords worn with their regalia.

Alumni Association Pins

Graduates in each ceremony are receiving alumni lapel pins with the University logo as a gift from the University of Southern Indiana Alumni Association. The Alumni Association was organized with the first graduating class in 1971.

Photography During Ceremony

A commercial photographer will take a photo of each graduate as the diploma is presented on stage. A second photograph will be taken as the graduate departs from the stage. Graduates will receive proofs of the photos from which duplicates can be ordered. Family members who wish to take still or video photographs during the ceremony may do so from their seats. Your cooperation ensures the dignity of the Commencement ceremony.

Photographs taken by USI Photography and Multimedia also will be available following the ceremonies in two locations. You can find USI Photography and Multimedia on Facebook, or view a gallery of images and order prints at www.usi.edu/gradphotos.

Commemorative DVD

A commemorative DVD of the ceremony is available for purchase ($20). To forever save the memory of this special day, order your DVD online at www.usi.edu/commencement/commencement-dvd or call 812-464-1924. This service is produced by the USI Office of Information Technology in partnership with the USI Alumni Association.
