Sherrianne M. Standley, vice president emerita for Advancement, will bring the Commencement address today.

Mrs. Standley is an Evansville resident who retired in 2007 after a 31-year career in which she significantly influenced the growth and development of the University of Southern Indiana. The first woman to be named a public University vice president in Indiana, she advanced the mission and image of the University of Southern Indiana among multiple constituents.

Known as an effective communicator and motivator, she was a friend and mentor to USI students, faculty, administrators, friends, and alumni. Her ability to engage others allowed her to successfully gain support for USI from donors and community leaders.

Mrs. Standley joined the USI staff in 1976 as director of Publications. During her career, she served as assistant to the president, vice president for University Relations, vice president for Advancement, and senior vice president for Advancement.

She is active on numerous civic boards and serves as president of the YWCA of Evansville. She is chair of the Evansville New Markets Tax Credit Governing Board and a member of the Vanderburgh County Sheriff's Merit and Pension Boards. She is a lifetime director of Keep Evansville Beautiful, where she served as director, vice chair, and chair.

A life director of the USI Foundation Board of Directors, she also is active in the USI Varsity Club, the USI Foundation President’s Associates, and other fund-raising efforts. Mrs. Standley is a former trustee of Trinity United Methodist Church in Evansville. Following retirement, she established her own consulting firm and she became an adjunct instructor in communications at the University.

Throughout her career, Vice President Standley welcomed collaboration and exchanged ideas with higher education administrators throughout the country. She is a member of the national Council for Advancement and Support of Education. She served the Indiana Council for Advancement and Support of Education as president, vice president, and board member. She was a member of the steering committee for the National Conference on Institutionally Related Foundations and is a life member of the Indiana University Alumni Association.

Prior to her career at USI, Mrs. Standley was director of public relations and development for Northern Kentucky University and worked for the Indiana Democratic State Central Committee. In 1968, while on loan from the state central committee office, she worked as press secretary for the Democratic National Committee/Humphrey for President campaign in the Southern California campaign office.

She holds a Master of Public Administration degree from Indiana State University and earned her undergraduate degree in education from Indiana University.

In 2007, she was named an honorary alumna by the USI Alumni Association and a Distinguished Hoosier by the Office of the Governor of Indiana. She also received the Spirit Award from the Tri State Multiple Sclerosis Association.

She is married to local attorney Barry L. Standley and they have one daughter, Sloane Standley Beasley.

In today's ceremony, Vice President Emerita Standley will receive an honorary Doctor of Laws degree as the University recognizes her commitment to public higher education and to the University of Southern Indiana.
The civic spirit of three southern Indiana citizens is celebrated in today’s ceremony. Honorary doctorates will be conferred on Victor V. Schriefer Jr., Bruce H. Baker, and Carol A. Baker.

A resident of Evansville, Mr. Schriefer worked in the brewing industry for more than 22 years at G. Heileman Brewing Company (Sterling Brewery). He retired as the company’s quality assurance manager.

Mr. Schriefer holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Secondary Education from the University of Evansville where he majored in biology and chemistry. He also served in the U.S. Air Force.

Mr. Schriefer is an associate member of the Fraternal Order of Police and a member of St. John’s East United Church of Christ in Evansville. His memberships also include Rolling Hills Country Club, Masonic Temple, Scottish Rite, Hadi Shrine, Eagles, and Kennel Club. He was formerly a member of the Shrine Chanters and he currently sings in the choir at the Scottish Rite. In the spirit of the Shriner’s creed, he looks beyond himself to serve the needs of others.

In today’s ceremony, Mr. Schriefer will receive the honorary Doctor of Science degree in recognition of his generous support of the University of Southern Indiana.

Bruce and Carol Baker are residents of Warrick County, Indiana. Bruce Baker has given USI more than 18 years of service as a member of the USI Board of Trustees, the longest tenure of any trustee. Carol Baker has given more than equal time as a champion of University activities.

He served as chair of the nine-member Board of Trustees from 1992 to 1997 and from 2006 to 2007. He was vice chair of the Board when he chaired the Finance Committee for two years and the Long-Range Planning Committee for seven years.

Trustee Baker consistently reinforced the University’s emphasis on a curriculum intended to meet the mission of “preparing students to live wisely” and the goal of providing an excellent, affordable education to Hoosier students.

A graduate of Indiana University, he owns and operates Newburgh Health Care and Residential Center. He is a charter member of the Newburgh Historic Society, a life member of the Indiana University Alumni Association, and serves on the board of WNIN Channel 9. He also served as a lieutenant in the U.S. Army.

Carol Baker, a graduate of Kentucky Wesleyan University and former kindergarten teacher, has skillfully assisted with many special events for the University. She is a long-time member and life director of the USI Foundation Board of Directors, chairs the University Home Committee, and serves on the board of the USI Society for Arts and Humanities.

Active in community affairs, she is nominating chair, program chair, and past president of PEO. She served the Girl Scouts of Raintree Council, Inc. in several capacities, including six years as president.

The Bakers are active members of Main Street United Methodist Church in Boonville. They were the first recipients of the Suzanne A. Nicholson Leadership Award from the USI Foundation. The Bakers also received the Special Recognition Award from the USI Alumni Association in 1998 for their leadership and volunteer service to USI.

They are long-time members of the USI Foundation President’s Associates and supporters of the USI Varsity Club, Historic New Harmony, New Harmony Theatre, and virtually every USI Foundation program.

The Bakers have two children, daughter Suzanne Baker Weigel and son John Baker.

Bruce and Carol Baker will be awarded Doctor of Laws degrees for their volunteer leadership, philanthropy, and friendship to the University of Southern Indiana.
Dr. Sherry Bevins Darrell, professor of English and director of Humanities, has been selected by her colleagues to receive the Integra Bank Distinguished Professor Award, given in recognition of significant achievement in teaching, scholarship, and service.

Dr. Darrell joined the University in 1975 as a part-time assistant professor of English and became a full-time faculty member in 1978. She was promoted to associate professor in 1986 and to full professor in 1993. In 2005, she was named director of the interdisciplinary Humanities program. She has taught a variety of literature and composition courses, including Shakespeare, Milton, Greek tragedy, freshman rhetoric, and advanced composition.

A colleague who nominated Dr. Darrell for this award cited “her dedication to the long-term transformation of students into educated and self-confident citizens.” A former student said the rigors of her expectations can push students to “places they did not believe themselves capable of going.”

Dr. Darrell’s contributions to the University extend beyond the classroom. She organizes and leads annual trips to the Stratford Shakespeare Festival in Canada. She also has led tours of literary sites abroad. Considered a “teacher of teachers” as well as a teacher of students, Dr. Darrell has served on many faculty committees and mentored junior and adjunct faculty members. Widely regarded for her writing expertise, she is called upon frequently by students, faculty, administrators, and representatives of community organizations to edit manuscripts or drafts of presentations.

During more than three decades of service, Dr. Darrell has significantly influenced the development of University ceremonial traditions. As the first to propose the recognition of an outstanding graduating senior, she devised the selection process for the award. The President’s Medal is the highest honor given a graduating senior at Commencement.

Dr. Darrell served on the committee that planned the University’s first presidential inauguration when President H. Ray Hoops was appointed. Drawing on knowledge of academic tradition from her study of history, literature, language, and the practices of early churches and universities, she suggested the elements in the presidential seal, which now serves as the University seal, and served as coordinator for the investiture ceremony.

In addition to having edited books, journals, and other publications, Dr. Darrell is the author of a number of published papers and has presented more than 60 papers at regional and national conferences. She is founding sponsor of the Indiana Iota chapter of Alpha Chi national academic honor society.

Dr. Darrell was a board member and writer for Ohio Valley Hospice and Palliative Care from 1998 to 2007. She has taught an adult Sunday School class at Trinity United Methodist Church for 25 years.

She earned the Doctor of Philosophy degree in 1975 and the Master of Arts degree in 1973 at George Peabody College for Teachers. She completed a Bachelor of Arts degree at McMurry College in 1970.

As Distinguished Professor, Dr. Darrell will receive a grant from Integra Bank, select a student to receive a scholarship in her name next year, deliver the Distinguished Professor lecture during the next academic year, and deliver the address at the fall Commencement in December.
Known for a commitment to academic excellence and a commendable record of University service, this year’s President’s Medalist exemplifies an active and successful student life at the University of Southern Indiana. Samuel Curtis Bowles will graduate summa cum laude with a Bachelor of Arts degree in English.

Active in student government for four years, Mr. Bowles served as the College of Liberal Arts representative to the Student Government Association (SGA) as a freshman and later held the offices of associate justice and chief justice of the Student Court. An SGA advisor observed that Sam’s strengths include excellent listening skills and the ability to successfully lead a group through difficult issues.

A four-year member of the University Honors Program, Mr. Bowles provided leadership to the Honors Student Council, most recently as president. He also holds membership in Alpha Mu Gamma, a foreign language honor society, and in Sigma Tau Delta, an English honor society, which he served as vice president and president.

Because he remembered the positive influence of student ambassadors when he visited USI as a prospective student, he was pleased to serve as a student ambassador in the Office of Admission for two years of his USI student career. He also served as secretary of his Residence Hall Council for one year.

Mr. Bowles served on a variety of University committees including the University Core Curriculum Council, the Student Trustee Search Committee, the Student Advisory Panel for the College of Liberal Arts, and the Appeals Commission, and was the student representative to the Honors Faculty Council.

In 2007, Mr. Bowles received the All Campus Student Achievement Award and the Vice President for Student Affairs’ Top Student Leader Award.

For four years, he was a student worker in the English Department and values the relationships he built with support staff and faculty who served as teachers, mentors, and advisors. In support of Mr. Bowles’ nomination, an English professor wrote, “Sam has grasped the most significant part of a university and what it represents—openness and tolerance, not as good manners, but as necessary virtues or characteristics of an educated citizen.”

A recipient of the Eli Lilly Foundation Outstanding Senior Scholarship, Bowles graduated first in his high school class at Crawford County High School. At USI, he was awarded the Robert E. and Judith E. Griffin Endowed Presidential Scholarship.

After graduation, he plans to serve Hillview Christian Church in Marengo, Indiana, his home church where he currently serves as part-time Ministry Associate. He also will work in youth philanthropy for the Crawford County Community Foundation. Graduate school, divinity school, teaching overseas, and the Peace Corps are future career options for Mr. Bowles.

Samuel C. Bowles is the son of John and Rita Bowles of Marengo, and he has three younger brothers. He has traveled much of the globe on mission work or for pleasure and has visited Honduras, Brazil, Canada, Bahamas, Ethiopia, Spain, and a favorite location, Tanzania.

Other finalists for the President’s Medal were Kyle Besing, Andrea L.C. Henke, Rajeev Singh, and Todd J. Wannemuehler. The Student Affairs Committee of the Faculty Senate selects the President’s Medal recipient.

Presidential Medallion

During the Middle Ages, medallions signified membership in religious orders and guilds and, in the Renaissance, membership in elite orders of knighthood and prominence in government office. Today, colleges and universities strike medallions to commemorate important events and achievements. The University of Southern Indiana Presidential Medallion signifies the authority invested in the president.

Fabricated in bronze, the Presidential Medallion celebrates the 1995 inauguration of President H. Ray Hoops. At its center the bronze medallion bears a three-inch reproduction of the University seal, surrounded by a half-inch rim; on the back of the medallion are the names and dates of appointment of the University's presidents. During today's ceremony, a replica of the Presidential Medallion will be presented to Samuel C. Bowles. This is the highest honor given to a graduating senior.

University Seal

The University seal bears the University's colors—red, white, and blue—with gold. The shield signifies the importance of higher education in defending citizens against ignorance. Between the two banners carrying the University's name appear a band and an open book bound together by the torch of knowledge. In the band, rays of light emanate simultaneously from a rising sun, symbolizing the young University, and from the torch, symbolizing the light of knowledge and the passion for scholarship. Trees on either side of the flame suggest not only the University's pastoral southern Indiana setting but also life, growth, continuity.

Beneath this band, an open book emphasizes the importance of teaching and learning; academia populi and academia populo indicate that the University of Southern Indiana is a scholarly academy founded and supported by the people, for the people. Finally, the laurel branches to the right and left of the book represent victory: the light of learning overcomes the darkness of ignorance.

University Mace

In the Middle Ages, bodyguards of French and English monarchs carried ceremonial maces. Later, the mace became an important symbol of office in civil processions and academic pageantry; at the University of Southern Indiana, the Grand Marshal, a distinguished member of the faculty, carries the mace.

A replica of the walking cane of Richard Owen (1810-1890) serves as the centerpiece of the University mace. A respected geologist and professor of natural science at Indiana University, Owen became the first president of Purdue University. He was a son of Robert Owen (1771-1858), the Welsh industrialist who established New Harmony, Indiana, as a center for education and enlightened social reform in the early 1800s. The 32-inch-tall, wooden cane was presented to Richard Owen in 1874 and, through the generosity of his descendant Kenneth D. Owen, served as the Grand Marshal's staff until the mace was fabricated for the University's first Presidential Inauguration in 1995.

Designed and created by alumnus Kenny Fisher '77, the replica of the cane and the base are made of walnut from the Owen mansion built in New Harmony during the 1830s. The University mace is cared for by Paul F. Groeninger, Master Jeweler.

Gonfalons

Gonfalons, ceremonial flags, originated in the Middle Ages for military and civil processions. They often appeared beneath the steel head of a knight's lance. In Italy, gonfalons designated Italian republics; and the bearer, or gonfalonier, served as chief magistrate or held other high office. The University of Southern Indiana gonfalons represent each of the academic units of the institution, and they are carried by deans or department heads. Gonfalon colors derive from traditional colors for academic disciplines in each college. The University of Southern Indiana commencement gonfalons are a gift from the USI Bookstore.
Academic Dress
The academic costume dates from medieval days when university students wore woolen and fur garments for warmth in damp and drafty buildings. Most of those studying were clerics in holy orders; they wore a cloak to which was attached a hood that could be pulled up to cover their tonsured heads. Simplified today, the costume serves to remind us that its wearer is a member of an ancient and venerable profession; it also indicates by its color and design the wearer's degree and the institution by which the degree was conferred.

In the United States, black has been the traditional color for academic gowns, but some institutions authorize holders of their doctorates to wear colors of the institution. The bachelor's gown is distinguished by its long, open sleeves; the master's by its closed, slitted sleeves; the doctor's by its full sleeves trimmed with bands of velvet, which may be black or a color denoting the field in which the degree was taken.

The mortarboard cap, proper for all degrees, is black. Tassels, usually black, are worn over the left front quarter of the cap. Holders of the doctorate may wear tassels of gold thread.

Academic hoods vary in length according to the degree attained and are lined with the colors of the institution by which the degree was granted. The honorary doctoral hoods of the University of Southern Indiana are black, lined with blue satin with red satin chevrons. They are edged with white velvet.

Alumni Association Pins
Graduates in today's ceremony are receiving lapel pins with the University logo as a gift from the University of Southern Indiana Alumni Association.

Baccalaureate Scholarship Honors
The baccalaureate degree candidate graduating with the highest scholarship index is graduated summa cum laude. Baccalaureate students graduating with a scholarship index of 3.80 or higher are graduated magna cum laude. Those with a scholarship index between 3.60 and 3.80 are graduated cum laude. These achievements are set forth on the individual diplomas. Honor students can be recognized in the Commencement Exercises by colored stoles and tassels. Gold indicates summa cum laude; red, magna cum laude; and blue, cum laude.

Because students enrolled in master's degree programs are expected to maintain a minimum grade-point average of 3.0, and most achieve much higher levels, scholarship honors at Commencement are given only to baccalaureate students.

University Honors Scholars
The designation of University Honors Scholar is awarded to students who successfully complete the Honors Program. They can be recognized in today's ceremony by the white honor cords worn with their regalia.

Photography During the Ceremony
A commercial photographer is taking photographs of each graduate as he/she shakes hands on stage. Each graduate will receive a proof from which duplicates can be ordered. Family members who wish to take still or video photographs during the ceremony are asked to use the restricted area on the floor. Security guards will ask those who block aisles in the stands or occupy the area behind the stage to move. Your cooperation ensures the dignity of the Commencement ceremony.

Commemorative Video
In response to requests from graduates and families, a high-quality commemorative videotape of today's ceremony is being produced by the USI Office of Instructional Technology Services in cooperation with the USI Alumni Association. The tape includes the entire ceremony, depicting each graduate receiving a diploma cover, as well as candid behind-the-scenes shots. To order a videotape ($20 each) please call 800/813-4238 or 812/464-1924.
