Student Affairs welcomes administrators

A new face is joining two familiar ones in Student Affairs as three administrators assume key leadership posts.

Dr. Robert Parrent, whose appointment was announced earlier this year, is set to assume the role of vice president for Student Affairs July 1.

With 21 years experience as a college administrator, Parrent, formerly of Cape Girardeau, Mo., has worked in enrollment services, student services, and financial assistance.

He served as associate vice president for Enrollment Management at Southeast Missouri State University, as vice president for Student Affairs and Enrollment Services at Midway College in Kentucky, and in the admission offices at University of Louisville, University of Tennessee at Chattanooga, and Western Kentucky University.

In 2000, Parrent moved to corporate management, becoming chief operations officer for Sheldon Management and Consulting in Kentucky. His affiliation with USI marks a return to academe.

“I’m coming back to higher education because of my passion for serving students, my love and joy of the higher education environment, and the impact one can have toward making students successful,” he said.

Parrent holds an Ed.D. in higher education administration from Indiana University. His undergraduate work and master’s degree were completed at Western Kentucky University.

He is filling the position vacated by Dr. John Byrd, who began serving as University of Evansville’s executive vice president in November. John Deem, associate vice president for Student Affairs, served as acting vice president in the interim.

“A ctitng” no longer precedes titles held by Sandy Farmer, who took on the responsibilities of acting registrar and acting director for Veterans’ Affairs while Deem carried out vice presidential duties. Farmer now has been appointed to those roles, and Deem is continuing his service to the University as associate vice president for Student Affairs.

“USI has made such a difference in so many lives, and I am thrilled to be a part of such a wonderful university,” Farmer said. “We have numerous opportunities ahead, and I look forward to working with the many great people who have made USI what it is today.”

Farmer joined USI in 1988 as a student worker in the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs. She later worked as an administrative secretary in the Office of the Registrar, as assistant to the registrar, and as assistant registrar before assuming the roles of acting registrar and acting director for Veterans’ Affairs.

The Evansville resident earned a B.S. in accounting and finance in 1990 from USI, where she also earned an M.B.A. in 1996. She is a member of the Leadership Evansville spring class of 2002.

Jennifer Kellams, associate director of Career Services and Placement, has been appointed director of that office, filling the position vacated by Marilyn Schmidt, who retired this month.

“I look forward to building upon the current strengths of USI Career Services, while we grow and expand the programs and services we offer to students, alumni, employers, and University personnel,” Kellams said.

She joined the University as assistant director of Career Services and Placement in 1997. Before coming to USI, she worked in the Career Center at Indiana State University, as a graduate assistant in ISU’s Office of Alumni Affairs, and as a human resources recruiter for Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

The Evansville resident holds a B.A. in human resources management from Eckerd College and an M.S. in college student personnel work from ISU. She is active in a variety of professional associations and has served as vice president for Career Development Professionals of Indiana and as secretary/treasurer for the Indiana Association for Employment in Education.

“They’re two very qualified young professionals who are taking lead roles now in director positions, said Deem, associate vice president for Student Affairs. “We anticipate that they’ll continue to move their respective areas forward in providing services to our students.”

NHT staging Anna Christie

Anna Christie, Eugene O’Neill’s Pulitzer Prize-winning drama, will begin a three-week run at The New Harmony Theatre Friday, July 5. One of O’Neill’s best-known works, the romantic “play of the sea” depicts a young woman searching for redemption from her dark past while struggling to deserve the love she desperately needs.

“A Anna Christie has proven itself to be O’Neill’s most popular offering. The play has been produced frequently over the past 30 years or so, notably in many regional and Broadway productions featuring Liv Ullman, Natasha Richardson, Liam Neeson, and Rip Torn,” said Scott LaFeber, artistic director.

The New Harmony cast includes Jen Thompson, George C. Hosmer, Jeremy Holm, and Manny Sieving. Thompson, who is making her NHT debut, has performed on Broadway in award-winning productions of A, Wildness! and Annie. She also has appeared on television in Harper Valley PTA and 3-2-1-Contact.

Hosmer’s Broadway credits include I’m Getting My Act Together and Taking It On The Road with Betty Buckley and The Play’s the Thing. He also has performed on television in Matlock, The Equalizer, and Law and Order.

Holm, who made his first NHT appearance as Elyot Chase in this season’s Private Lives, has a resume that includes work at the Shanghai Theatre Center and Siglo de Oro Festival. Returning for a second season at New Harmony, Sieving performed in the Several local actors help round out the cast. Steve Small is returning for an 11th NHT season, while recent USI graduate Jason McCord and Evansville Civic Theatre veteran Rick Kersting make their first appearances on the New Harmony stage.

NHT productions are staged at Murphy Auditorium in New Harmony, Ind. Anna Christie opens at 8 p.m., July 5. A stagia performance will be presented at 8 p.m., July 6, 12, 13, 19, and 20; 7:30 p.m., July 11 and 18; and 2 p.m., July 7, 14, and 21.

Tickets are $18 adult and $16 student/senior (60+). USI employees receive a $3 discount by presenting a valid Eagle Access Card. Group rates are available. A Family Experience is offered for any Sunday matinee: $5 for any child 6 to 18 accompanying an adult; one child per adult.

For tickets or additional information, call 812/682-3115 or toll-free 1-877/648-7469. Information also is available on the Web: www.newharmonytheatre.com.

The New Harmony Theatre is a non-profit, professional theatre produced by USI with support from the Arts Council of Southwestern Indiana, the Indiana Arts Commission, and the National Endowment for the A rts.

Sound of Music opening at amphitheatre

Celebrate the nation’s birth this holiday weekend by following the von Trapp family’s journey to freedom. Opening at the New Harmony Amphitheatre Saturday, July 6, The Sound of Music tells the true story of a family overcoming great odds to live in freedom and its redemption by the love of a remarkable young woman.

The timeless Rodgers and Hammerstein score includes “My Favorite Things,” “Do-Re-Mi,” “Edelweiss,” and many other family favorites.

The amphitheatre’s 2002 production features actors, singers, and dancers from across the country in addition to several from this area. Returning favorites include Jennifer Hampson as Maria, Kim Saltarelli as Sister Berthe, Aimee Eckhardt as Liesl, and Robert Payne as Max Detweiler.

Youngsters from Southern Indiana will portray most of the von Trapp children, including Jenna James, Newburgh, and Carynn Koch, Mount Vernon, as Brigitta; Julia James, Newburgh, and Aiden Parsons, Evansville, as Gretl; Lexi Shohe, Evansville, and Sierra Parsons, Evansville, as Marta; Jordan Bradfield, Heritage Hills, as Friedrich; and Joseph Wilkins, Evansville, as Kurt.

Bring a canned food item to the opening night performance at 7:30 p.m., July 6 and receive $5 off the regular ticket price. Food items will benefit the Christian Resource Center Food Bank.

The Sound of Music will run in repertoire with Young Abe Lincoln through Aug. 10. Additional performances of The Sound of Music will be at 7:30 p.m., July 12, 14, 18, 20, 26, and 28; and Aug. 1, 3, 9, and 10. A Kids Day performance will be at 1 p.m., July 24 and will feature a shortened version of the show preceded by special activities beginning at 10:30 a.m.

Passes, good for every night of the season, are $40. Individual tickets are $15, adults; $13, seniors (60+); and $8, children (under 18). Sunday is Family Night at the New Harmony Amphitheatre, when tickets are $8 per person (no other discounts). Kids Day tickets are $6 per person. Corporate and group rates are available. USI employees receive $3 off the adult ticket price by presenting a valid Eagle Access Card.

For tickets or additional information, call 800/264-4A BE. Information also is available on the Web: www.newharmonytheatre.com.

Golf tournament benefiting USI Athletics

One of the country’s top 100 new golf courses has chosen USI as the beneficiary of its 2002 Memorial Endowment Tournament. Victoria National Golf Club in Newburgh will host the event July 14 and 15. Proceeds will benefit the USI Athletic Scholarship Endowment.

The tournament offers golfers an opportunity to play one of America’s finest venues. In addition, a portion of the contribution is tax deductible.

Sponsorships are available at several levels. Gold ($10,000) and Silver ($5,000) sponsors will have teams of four players who may play their own ball July 14 and in a scramble July 15. Bronze ($3,000) sponsors will have a foursome playing July 15 only. Sponsors also will receive signage recognition at the event.

Individual players may sign up for $750 each. A ll players and their spouses are invited to the Endowment Gala, which will be held in the evening July 14 at USI and to the Awards Reception July 15 at Victoria National.

Dr. Ed Brundick, long-time team physician for USI Athletics and a member of the Victoria National Club, is chairing the benefit tournament.

Interested persons may call USI Foundation, extension 1918, for additional information.

Artists’ reception June 28

The New Harmony Gallery of Contemporary Art will host a free public artists’ reception from 6 to 8 p.m., Friday, June 28, in conjunction with the opening of “Two Takes,” an exhibit of photographs by Gary Cawood and Tom Stio that will be on display Saturday, June 29, through Aug. 3.

A professor at University of Arkansas at Little Rock, Cawood holds an M.F.A. from East Tennessee State University. He has had numerous solo and group exhibitions since the mid-70s, and his work is part of many collections, including those at the Corcoran, Library of Congress, and Baltimore Museum of Art.

Stio, who operates Shadow and Light Studio in Bloomington, holds an M.A. in biology from Indiana University and is the founder of Jordan Scientific, a laboratory equipment manufacturing company that he sold in 1996, when he began a career in professional photography. In his studio, Stio specializes in distinctive fine art portraiture. He has been exhibiting in Bloomington-area galleries since 1999.

Hours at the gallery, located at 506 Main St. in New Harmony, are from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday. For additional information, call 812/682-3156.

Achievements

Carolyn S. Smith, who retired as Academic Skills coordinator in 2000, received top honors in the Mainstream Fiction category at the Heartland Writers Guild Conference and “Great Beginnings Writing Competition.” Her novel, Hole in Her Heart, took first place in the category, in which her manuscript, Major Incident, also was a finalist. The conference was held in June in Sikeston, Mo. A biennial event, it offers workshops and provides access to literary agents, publishers, editors, and published authors. Smith pitched Hole in Her Heart to two agents at the conference, and both requested the manuscript.

Smith moved to Poplar Bluff, Mo., after her retirement from USI. She writes, travels, and works part-time at the Poplar Bluff Public Library, and her library column, “Open Book,” is featured regularly in the local newspaper, the Daily American Republic.
