What is SCREAMING EAGLES ORIENTATION?

You chose to attend the University of Southern Indiana to become part of something big, to join a challenging yet supportive academic community. Screaming Eagles Orientation is your opportunity to claim your place. Screaming Eagles Orientation is a required program where you will learn about University resources, get your Eagle Access Card (student ID), meet with an advisor and register for your first semester of classes. You will have the opportunity to meet the heart of our University—other new students, current students, faculty and staff. Screaming Eagles Orientation is your next step in becoming a USI Screaming Eagle!

USI offers three Screaming Eagles Orientation programs to meet your individual needs. Turn the page to learn more about each of these orientation options.

New Student Checklist:

COMPLETE PRIOR TO SCREAMING EAGLES ORIENTATION:

1. Select the orientation program designed for you. (Details on the next page)
   - NEW STUDENT Orientation
   - TRANSFER and ADULT STUDENT Orientation
   - ONLINE Orientation

2. Select your orientation date.
   Orientation occurs March through August. Pages 3-4 will give you the dates available for your particular orientation program. As sessions get full, they will not be available on the online registration form. Make sure to register for orientation as soon as possible.

3. Invite your parents or guardians to Parents and Family Orientation.
   Research shows parent involvement has a positive effect on a student’s transition to the University. Encourage your parents or family members to attend. Select an orientation date together and remember to sign them up when you register.

4. Complete placement testing. (Details on the next page)

5. Submit transcripts for any college coursework.
   If you have taken any college coursework (in high school or at another college) that can be considered for college credit, you must request that the college(s) send an official transcript to USI Admission for evaluation. College coursework taken at your high school requires submission of a transcript from the college offering the college credit, even if it also appears on your high school transcript.

6. Apply for on-campus housing.
   When you apply for on-campus housing, consider the Living Learning Communities (LLCs). LLCs provide freshmen the unique opportunity to live with students who have similar interests, goals and academic programs. In addition to living together, you also will take some of your coursework together and participate in additional activities around the theme of the community. Students who participate in the LLCs are some of our most successful students. If you are interested in being part of this unique opportunity, submit your application early and prior to your orientation session. More information can be found at USI.edu/housing.
Orientation Programs Designed For You:

New Student Orientation is designed for students entering the University for the first time or for transferring students who have earned less than 19 credits at another institution. This program is a one-day, on-campus program.

Transfer and Adult Student Orientation is designed for students who are transferring 19 or more credit hours from another college or university or adult students (25 years of age or older). This program is a half-day, on-campus program.

Online Orientation is designed for students meeting one of the following criteria:
- Transfer students who have an associate’s degree or who will have completed 60 credit hours at previous institution(s) when they begin courses at USI
- Adult students (25 years of age or older)
- Students in the military
- Students who are taking all their courses through distance education

Students Exempt from Orientation
- Students who have already earned a bachelor’s degree or higher
- Students who are full-time employees of the University of Southern Indiana

If either of these apply to you, contact Student Development Programs at 812-465-7167, 800-350-7830 or orientation@usi.edu so we may waive your orientation requirement and direct you to the next step in registering for courses.

Placement Testing Information:

Placement tests help students transition smoothly to their studies at USI. Tests are given in mathematics, English, reading and foreign language. Placement tests are required for new and transfer students with some exceptions.

These tests can be taken in a variety of ways:

1. Visit the USI campus during normal business hours with no appointment necessary.
2. Visit the USI campus during special testing sessions in the evening or on a Saturday. You may register for a special testing session when you register for orientation.
3. Arrange for testing at a testing center in your community.
4. Take the test at home using BVirtual. This option requires the student to use a webcam and pay a fee.

You should complete the necessary tests at least one week prior to orientation to enable course registration on the day of orientation. Visit USI.edu/university-division/academic-skills/placement-testing for more information. Contact us at acadskill@usi.edu or 812-464-1743.

Parents and Family Orientation

As a parent or family member, you play a vital role in your student’s transition to college life. This is why we encourage parents and family members to register for and attend Parents and Family Orientation. You will learn about the University and its many resources and become a partner with the University in supporting your student’s success in transitioning to college.

- New Students—Parents and Family Orientation offers relevant and timely information on financial assistance, tuition and billing, health and safety, advising and registration, University support services and what to expect as your student transitions to this next chapter in his/her life. Parents and Family Orientation is concurrent with New Student Orientation.

- Transfer Students—Parents and family members are welcome to attend Transfer/Adult Student Orientation with their student.

Register for Orientation as soon as possible because sessions close when full. Plan carefully when selecting your session. Remember to check your high school activities calendar, your academic calendar at your current institution and/or work schedule.

Cost for Students

The cost for students to participate in an orientation program is included on your first tuition bill as the matriculation fee. This fee covers the cost of orientation, Welcome Week and other new student programs. This is a one-time, non-refundable fee paid by all new students to the University who register for classes.

Cost for New Student Parents and Family Orientation

There is no additional fee for parents and family members to attend New Student Parents and Family Orientation. We will provide materials and lunch for up to two family members per student at New Student Parents and Family Orientation. Lunch tickets for additional guests at New Student Parents and Family Orientation will be paid for at Orientation Check-in. We ask that you only make reservations for family members you know will be attending.

Disability Resources

If you or your guest require accommodations to participate fully in orientation, notify the Orientation staff by filling in the appropriate area of the online reservation form or contacting us at least three weeks prior to your session.

Student and Parent On-Campus Overnight Accommodations

Experience what living on campus has to offer while on your orientation visit (both new student and transfer/adult student sessions). Campus housing for orientation is located in the residence halls and is available during the May, June and July orientation sessions for students and families. You will meet other students, connect with other parents and participate in activities and events with current USI student leaders. Families and students staying on campus need to bring linens (twin sheets, blanket, pillow, towels, etc.), toiletries, alarm clock and personal items. The price for the residential experience is $19 per person per night. This fee will be posted to the student’s University account. No payment is due at the time of making a reservation. Indicate on your orientation reservation form if you plan to stay on campus.

August 19 Orientation Housing:

No on-campus housing will be available for students or their guests attending the August 19 orientation sessions. However, if you have a fall housing assignment and are registered for the August 19 session, you are able to move into your fall housing assignment on August 18. For more information regarding early move-in visit USI.edu/housing.
