PETITION-REQUIRED COURSE MODIFICATION

*See Handbook for definition of Petition-required Course modifications and for procedures to be followed for Memorandum-required Course modifications.

1. Provide a description of the course as it currently exists, including course title, number, credit hours and prerequisites: 261: Early World History to 1300 (3). This course is an overview of world history from the earliest civilizations to 1300 C. E.. The development and exchange of representative cultural markers between examples of Western and non-Western societies will be of particular interest. Students in this course will be introduced to history as a method and a means of viewing the human experience, examine the significance of continuity and change, and assess the roles of individuals and social processes in historical change. Prereq: one 100-level History course and English 201.

2. Proposed Course Title, if modified: ______

3. Proposed Course Description, if modified: 261: Early World History to 1300 (3).
