Other Teaching Activities and Contributions

- April 2017 Revised course content and evaluation methods of three CT/MRI clinical education courses (RADT 414, RADT 416, RADT 486). The evaluation methods were changed so upon successful completion of the series of courses students would have met the clinical education requirements for the American Registry of Radiologic Technologist's (ARRT) post-primary examinations in computed tomography and magnetic resonance imaging.
- Nov. 2015 Revised the course name, content, methods of evaluation, and course description of RADT 491. This was done to meet Radiology Bachelors curriculum and to meet requirements of a writing embedded course for Core 39. The course was approved as a Core 39 Writing embedded course.
- August 2015 Revised course content of RADT 411, 413, & 415 to meet requirements of the American Registry of Radiologic Technologist's (ARRT) post-primary structured education for computed tomography and magnetic resonance imaging. Approval and recognition was obtained from the ARRT for these three courses.
- July 2012 Revision of all radiology clinical course (RADT 333, RADT 343, RADT 353, RADT 435, RADT 445, RADT 455) titles and course descriptions to accurately reflect the content of each course.
- 2009 Developed new course (RADT 491) and gained approval of Core Curriculum committee to offer the course as a Synthesis course.
